on: submitting research project funding proposals under the NAWA Intervention Grants call launched by the National Academic Exchange Agency.

This is to inform you that the National Agency for Academic Exchange (NAWA) has announced a call for projects in the NAWA Intervention Grants programme, the aim of which is to support international cooperation of research teams or international mobility of researchers undertaken in response to important, urgent and unforeseen social, civilisational and natural phenomena with global or regionally relevant consequences.

Centrum Wsparcia Nauki

Proposals submitted in the programme must cover research activities that, for reasons of rapid response, cannot be implemented through application to other existing funding mechanisms. Participation in the programme will enable researchers to undertake intervention research in international collaboration and develop solutions relevant to responding to disruptive events.

The key element of the project is international collaboration of the project group or international mobility of researchers focused on meeting the project's research objectives. In the case of research projects that foresee scientific expeditions and field work in the area of occurrence of phenomena and processes of a unique nature and requiring urgent intervention, only activities of an international mobility nature may be included in the proposal.

The total allocation under the call is PLN 5 million.

The maximum value of one project cannot exceed PLN 300,000.

The call for proposals by NAWA is continuous until the allocation is exhausted, but no later than 20 December 2024 at 3 p.m. local time for Warsaw (Poland).

Terms and conditions of the application procedure are available on the websites of:
